Alleys Must Be Cleaned

Notice is hereby given that unless all rubbish and refuse is removed from the alleys in the Town of Didsbury before the 15th of May, 1912, the Town will remove the same and charge the expense against the adjoining property.

By order of the Town Council.

AROUND THE TOWN

C. A. McEachern was a week end visitor at Calgary last week.

Mrs. H. Sanderman and Miss Esther Sanderman were visitors at Bowden over Sunday.

Miss Rutherford and Miss Claffy has been visiting Mr. Lee Crawford, west of Didsbury.

W. Porter and A. Winterbottom of Noelton were visiting Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Wood this week.

Mr. Ed. McCole, who has been visiting with his parents in Didsbury, left on Monday afternoon for Victoria, B. C.

Geo. Sexsmith, Jr., who has been with the Union Bank branch at Three Hills for some time, has accepted a position with the Traders Bank at Didsbury.

A change has been made in the staff at the C. P. R. depot. Mr. Fred Lyons has been transferred to Olds and Mr. D. B. Dickson of Calgary has been moved here. Mr. Ray Dowdell is now the assistant agent here.

Sam Spahr of the Golden West hotel had to leave suddenly for Toronto, Ont., today (Thursday) on important business. He does not know whether he will return to Didsbury or not.

The Women's Exchange of the Presbyterian church will hold a sale of home cooking, consisting of pies, cakes, bread, buns and all good things to eat. This sale will be held at Wigglesworth's hall on Saturday, May 11th, from 3 to 5 p. m., and will be held monthly hereafter.

Morning services at 11 and evening services at 7.30 next Sunday at the Baptist church as usual. In the evening the pastor will begin a series of subjects on "Didsbury's Popular Sins." The subject for next Sunday night will be, "Gossips and Gossiping." All heartily invited.

Another of our popular young men in Didsbury is leaving to take up the opportunities for which the west is noted. J. A. Weicker, brother of Norman Weicker, left on Wednesday for Three Hills where he is going into the butcher business with his brother-in-law, D. J. Witwer. The Pioneer wishes him all success.

The members of the local lodge of the I. O. O. F. attended divine service in the Presbyterian church on Sunday evening. About thirty-five members turned out, S. R. Wood acting as marshal. Bro. J. Rex Brown of Carstairs lodge preached an eloquent sermon from the center link of Oddfellowship, "Love." Mrs. P. Reed and W. G. Liesemer favored the congregation with a duet entitled "Songs in the Night."

100 PERSONS CURED OF ECZEMA

Within the past few months over 100 persons have written to the Zam-Buk Co. reporting their cure of eczema, rashes and skin diseases by Zam-Buk! Does this not prove that Zam-Buk is something different? Don't you need it in your household?

Miss Mary McCuaig, 913 St. Catherine Street W., Montreal, says: "I do not know words powerful enough to express my gratitude to Zam-Buk. Eczema broke out on my scalp and hands. The irritation of the scalp was so bad that I could not sleep or rest, and I feared I should have to have my hair cut off. On my hands the disease appeared in sore patches, the burning and itching of which drove me many times to spells of weeping. I went to the dispensary, but they referred me to a skin specialist, who said that mine was as bad a case of eczema as he had seen. He gave me some ointment, and then a second lot, but neither gave me any relief."

"I was in a very bad condition when Zam-Buk was introduced, but I soon found out that it was different from all the other remedies. I persevered with the Zam-Buk treatment, and each box did me more and more good. The irritation and smarting soon disappeared, then the sores began to heal, fresh healthy skin grew over the parts which had been sore, and I am now quite free from all traces of eczema, both on head and hands. My hair has also been saved."

Zam-Buk is also a sure cure for piles, eruptions, blood poisoning, cuts, burns and all skin injuries. 50c. all druggists and stores. Or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. Refuse substitutes.

ZAM-BUK

Not Boasting.

An Irishman and German were sitting on a pier fishing. Neither gave the other any concern. The Irishman smoked away philosophically at his clay, while the German seemed absorbed in thought, or was silently expecting a bite.

Suddenly the German fell into the water. The splash recalled the Irishman from the preoccupation. That was all it did, however. He never made a move to offer aid to the man struggling in the water.

"I can't swim," the German said as he came up.

"I can't swim," he shouted louder, as he came to the surface for the second time.

As he was about to disappear for the third time, the German cried heartily:

"I can't swim!"

"It's a mighty funny time to boast about it," replied the smoker of the clay.

Uses Only Cuticura Soap for Prize Baby

"I have always used Cuticura Soap and no other for my baby, and he has never had a sore of any kind. He does not even chafe as most babies do. I feel that it is all owing to Cuticura Soap for he is fine and healthy, and when five months old won a prize in a baby contest. It makes my heart ache to go into so many homes and see a sweet faced baby with the whole top of its head a solid mass of scurf, caused by the use of poor soap. I always recommend Cuticura, and nine times out of ten the next time I see the mother she says 'Oh! I am so glad you told me of Cuticura.' (Signed) Mrs. G. A. Selby, Redondo Beach, Calif."

Although Cuticura Soap is sold by druggists and dealers everywhere, a postal to "Cuticura," Dept. C.M., Boston, U.S.A., will secure a liberal sample, with 32-p. book on the care of skin, scalp and hair.

Poor Old Mother.

In the correspondence column of a contemporary there recently appeared a question by a son-in-law with whom his wife's mother had been living as to whether other members of the family (three sons) who were said to be able though unwilling, could be compelled to bear a portion of the expense of the mother's maintenance. She had been living with one of the sons, and the brother-in-law had been asked if she could be boarded in his house so that the daughter might look after her. This was agreed to, but the board money was not paid, and after eighteen months of squabbling the question was asked. The answer was diplomatic, namely, that the matter was one which required most judicious handling, and that a solicitor should be consulted. Had the person in charge of the question known of the Canadian Government Annuities System, the wisest thing he could have done would have been to recommend the purchase of a Government Annuity. At her age (75) an annuity of $300 (75 dollars every three months) payable as long as she might live, could have been purchased for $1932. The mother could then have lived happily with her daughter for the remainder, have regarded the mother's presence in the home, a boon rather than a burden, and the family ties would have remained unbroken. But best of all, the comfort and happiness of the dear old mother, who had nursed them in their infancy, had, perhaps, spent many a sleepless night in anxious attendance upon them whom the "Dread Messenger" was hovering near, ready to snatch them away from her, and who had guided their young footsteps in the straight and narrow path—priceless services—would have been assured for all time. Happily in Canada cases of this kind are few, and they will be still fewer in the years to come if the boys and girls of today can only be induced to pay into the Annuities System a few cents each week. For example, a young man of 20 by paying in 50 cents a week until he is 60 may purchase an Annuity of $252.76; and a young woman starting at same age, and paying a like amount for the same period, could secure an Annuity of $211.72, which, owing to her longevity being superior, is somewhat less than he would receive. The age of 60 to a young man or woman of 20 may seem a long way off; but it may interest them to know that, according to mortality experience, of 10,000 of either sex starting at 20 considerably more than 50 per cent. will be still living even at 65. There is more than an even chance that you will be one of the 5,000.

Information as to the cost of an annuity at any age may be secured on application to the postmaster, or to the Superintendent of Annuities, Ottawa, to whom your letter may be sent without postage.

Self-Exposed.

"A multi-millionaire in a fashionable restaurant," she said, "pointed to a line on the menu and said to the waiter:

"I'll have some of that, please."

"I'm sorry, sir," the waiter answered "but the band is playing that."

Some Noise.

Poet—"Did you ever hear the heavy artillery of the skies boom and thunder and roar with terrifying power?"

Farmer—"Naw, I went to a suffragist meeting 'once"—Philadelphia Record.

Ask for Minard's and take no other.

His Business.

"O Papa," she said, with a blush, "young Mr. Chestnut, who owns so many coal mines in the Midlands, is coming again this evening and he wants to see you on some important business."

"All right, my dear," responded the old man, chucking her playfully under the chin. "I know what the young man wants."

That evening Mr. Chestnut came to the point at once.

"Mr. Hendricks," he said boldly, "I want to ask you if you have laid in a stock of coal?"—London Ideas.

Owen Wister, the well-known novelist, was talking in Philadelphia about a poet whose works sold poorly.

"Poets are usually without honor," he said, "Remember Wordsworth's case."

"The great Wordsworth, you know, was in the habit of spouting his poetry aloud as he took his lonely walks. Thus he polished and elaborated his lines. Thus too, he got the reputation among the Rydal Lake folks of being a bit daft."

"Well, John, what's the news?" Hartley Coleridge once asked an old stonebreaker by the lake shore.

"Why, now, verra partickler," the stonebreaker replied; "only old Wordsworth broken loose agin'."

There are but two ways for moisture to come out of the earth. One is through plant life, and the other by evaporation. If we allow a hard crust to form it will cause this evaporation; but when we place this soil mulch on the earth, it forms a protection to the moisture beneath. When an arid comes you want to set over it and remulch the soil, and thus set the trap for the next. As soon as you catch one rain, set your trap for the next. Destroy what would form a crust and allow the escape of the moisture already in the ground.

Putting it to work.

When the train stopped at the little southern station the northern tourist sauntered out on a platform, says the Housekeeper. Under a scrub oak stood a lean animal with scraggly bristles. The tourist was interested. "What do you call that?" he inquired of a lanky native.

"Razorback hawk."

"Well, what is he doing rubbing against that tree?"

"He's stropping himself, mister, jest stropping himself."

An Inducement to try.

"Did you say the fishing around here was interesting?"

"Yep. The feller that catches one fish breaks the record."

Confirmed.

"Don't you think this hat makes me look ten years younger?"

"Yes, and so does my husband."

"How charming! What did he say?"

"He remarked last night that when you took off your hat you looked ten years older."

SPRING REMINDERS OF RHEUMATISM

Raw, Damp Weather Starts the Pain, but the Trouble Lies in the Blood.

Spring weather is bad for rheumatic sufferers. The changes from mild to cold, the raw, damp winds start the aches and twinges, or in the more extreme cases, the tortures of the trouble going. But it must be borne in mind that it is not the weather that causes rheumatism. The trouble is rooted in the blood—the changeable weather merely starts the pains. The only way to reach the trouble and to cure it is through the blood. The poisonous rheumatic acids must be driven out. Liniments and rubbing may give temporary relief, but cannot possibly cure the trouble. The sufferer is only wasting time and money with this kind of treatment and all the time the trouble is becoming more deeply rooted—harder to cure. There is just one speedy cure for rheumatism—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They act directly on the impure, acid-tainted blood. They purify and strengthen it and thus root out the cause of the rheumatism. Here is strong proof of the above statements. Mrs. Robert Luffman, Midland, Ont., says: "About three years ago my grandson, Robert Luffman, was attacked with inflammatory rheumatism. He became so bad he could only walk when someone helped him about. One arm he had to carry in a sling, and we felt sure he would be a cripple for life. The trouble also affected his heart. The doctor said his blood was turning to water and we had little hope for his recovery. The medicine the doctor gave him did not do more than soothe the pain a little, then he would be as bad as ever. On a former occasion Dr. Williams' Pink Pills had cured my daughter of rheumatism, and we finally decided to try them in Robert's case. After the use of three or four boxes there was a slight improvement and he continued taking the Pills until he had used 12 boxes when the trouble had completely disappeared, and he has not been affected with it since."

Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50., from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

"Congratulations, old man."

"For what?"

"I see you have at last acquired an auto."

"No, I haven't. I got all dirtied up this way putting a new ribbon on my typewriting machine."

Very many persons die annually from cholera and kindred summer complaints, who might have been saved if proper remedies had been used. It attacked, do not delay in getting a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial, the medicine that never fails to effect a cure. Those who have used it say it acts promptly, and thoroughly subdues the pain and disease.

Apropos of a beautiful young wife worth $40,000,000, who had just divorced her penniless husband in order to marry again, Henry E. Dixey, the comedian said at a dinner in New York.

"The young man who marries for money has none too easy a time of it. His rich wife is likely to tire of him and throw him out in a few years, or else she is likely to limit his allowance to 25 or 50 cents a day."

"I married money," a man once said to me.

"Wasn't there a woman attached to it?"

"Yes, you bet there was," he exploded. "So much attached to it that she never parted with a penny."

"Don't you think it is dastardly to send a man an infernal machine?" asked Jones, while motoring with Brown. "Oh, I don't know," replied Brown as the machine gave a dying groan, half way up the hill. "If I had an enemy, I'd send him this one."—Judge.

"Young gentlemen," said an earnest speaker, addressing a company of college students, "if you have a spark of genius in you, water it."

"Can you give any evidence in regard to the character of the deceased?" said the judge. "Yes, my lord," replied the witness. He was a man without blame, beloved and respected by all men, pure in all his thoughts, and—"Where did you learn that?" "I copied it from his tombstone, my lord."

A lady very fond of cats and a man devoted to dogs, fell into a controversy over the merits of these animals.

"So you really think that dogs sometimes possess more intelligence than their masters?"

"Certainly, I've got one myself that does."

"There is a great deal more refinement in athletics than there used to be."

"Yes," replied the sporting man "but every now and then, some pugilist breaks loose and talks about 'slugging over the ropes' like a political repudiated physician; otherwise I can't see it."—Washington Star.

"Algernon, am I the first woman you have ever loved?"

"Not exactly. I was in love with my teacher at ten and with a circus rider at twelve. But you are the first girl I have ever asked to marry me, my dear."—Washington Herald.

A report says more actors go into bankruptcy than do members of any other profession. Well, look now often they get married.

A Cure for Rheumatism.—A painful and persistent form of rheumatism is caused by impurities in the blood, the result of defective action of the liver and kidneys. The blood becomes tainted by the introduction of uric acid, which causes much pain in the tissues and in the joints. Parmed's Vegetable Pills are known to have effected many remarkable cures, and their use is strongly recommended. A trial of them will convince anyone of their value.

"Had a consultation, eh?"

"No, an autopsy."—Judge.

She—"You are always talking about making money in literature—why don't you do something?"

He—"I did! I pawned my typewriter for $15."—Satire.

Whiskey Blossom as State Flower

Right at a time when the important and perplexing problem of choosing a State flower is up for solution, rank outsiders are throwing all kinds of obstacles in the way. Among those newspapers that have been offering interference in this matter is the Louisville Courier-Journal, which with amazing intolerance of spirit says:—

"The Nashville Tennessean and American says Tennessee has no State flower. Judging from the manner in which prohibition has not prohibited in Tennessee, the whiskey blossom stands a show for the nomination."—Nashville Tennessean.

Another Council meeting has passed by and nothing definite has been done (or at least nothing shows on the minutes) to fix up the eye sore in front of the post-office, and it appears that the public can go and kick themselves in a corner for all our wise Councillors care as regards giving the town a presentable appearance and making life worth living for our people by making a small beauty spot where everyone can enjoy it. True, we understand that a bandstand has been promised but we also understand that some of the Councillors favor the bright idea of leaving the ground rough instead of expending a small sum to plow, harrow and roll it. Outside of the bandstand we have no hesitation in saying that the small sum of $50 expended by the Council would put this ground into shape and as for permission to do this (which we also understand was again brought up at the last Council meeting) what in creation more do the Council want than they already have? Last year the town clerk received permission from the C. P. R. authorities to fix this place up and the Council were so notified, and the same for two or three years previous when the writer himself took up the matter with the authorities. It looks as though there is a nigger in the fence and that this is another means by which the Council will delay the work another year. The ratepayers will not stand any more dilley-dalleying about this matter as a large number of them are in favor of having it done and in having it done right, and it is to be hoped that the Council will go after it at once and do the work as it should be done.

Changes Announced

Edmonton, May 5.—The changes in the provincial government were officially announced on Saturday night. At 8 o'clock Lieutenant-Governor Bulyea swore in the following as members of the cabinet:

Arthur Lewis Sifton, M.A., L.L.B., D.C.L., K.C., premier and minister of railways and telephones.

Charles Richmond Mitchell, B.A., B.C.L., C.E., K.C., minister of public works.

Archibald J. McLean, provincial secretary.

Duncan Marshall, minister of agriculture.

Malcolm McKensie, M.A., K.C., provincial treasurer.

Charles Wilson Cross, B.A., L.L.B., K.C., attorney general.

John Robert Boyle, K.C., minister of education.

Charles Stewart, minister of municipal affairs.

The bye-elections for the four new ministers, in Claresholm, Edmonton, Sturgeon and Sedgwick, and also the bye-election in Cardston, will be held on May 27.

C. R. Mitchell, Malcolm McKenzie, C. W. Cross and J. R. Boyle were appointed King's Councillors.

BEARING DOWN PAINS

What woman at some time or other does not experience these dreadful bearing down pains. Mrs. E. Griffith, of Main street, Hepworth, Ont., says: "A heavy bearing down pain had settled across my back and sides. I was often unable to stoop or straighten myself up. Many times each night I would have to leave my bed with the irregular and frequent secretions of the kidneys and just as done out in the morning as on retiring. I was languid and would have to let my housework stand. Nothing I had tried would benefit me. I heard of Booth's Kidney Pills & concluded I would try them, which I did, and soon found the long sought relief. My back strengthened and I began to feel better and stronger. I now enjoy my sleep without being disturbed and feel grateful to Booth's Kidney Pills for what they did for me."

Booth's Kidney Pills are a boon to women. She would know less of back-aches if she took more of these wonderful pills. They are nature's greatest specific for all diseases of the kidneys and bladder. "As she enters the second room I look in. The blinds were down and the room was rather dark, but I could see the room was very handsome, with fine, noble furniture. On a low couch, near the window, resting on cushions and covered with a great embroidered silk wrap, I could see the head of an old man, with white hair and a white beard. Put nearly had I caught sight of him from the door than Lady Anne turned, and her face when she perceived me was one of fury—yes, fury!"

"She dropped the tray. Glasses, plates, everything was broken!"

"Go!" she cried, and her arm was trembling as she pointed at me, and her eyes were like two flashes of lightning.

"Monsieur, she would have killed me had I stayed. I know it! I ran for my life, and when I reached my mother's arms I fainted!"

CHAPTER XVIII. Among The Roses.

Harry sat in silence for some seconds after Lisette had finished speaking.

He had been listening with the closest attention; but the conclusions at which he had arrived were not at all those to which Mlle. Dupont had wished to lead him.

He thought her an inquisitive, impertinent mix; but, being a man, he was inclined to excuse her for youth and inexperience. As to Lady Anne, his heart was rent with pity for her.

"Eating next to nothing," the girl had said, and "Lady Anne was alone, as she always is."

Her sole recreation seemed to be doing good by stealth, aiding an unprepossessing idiot with money and waiting with saintly humility upon the feeble invalid whose devotion to his employers had brought on the attack which had crippled him.

As to the "old mad person" Lisette had been told not to notice, who who could that be but the "weapen lady" the sexton had hinted at as inhabiting the Abbey?

Again, another point was made clear to him by her tale; for was not probably this "old mad person" or some other recipient of Lady Anne's boundless charity who had crept after them along the cloisters and by the waterways on the night when Lady Anne had shown him over the grounds?

A glow of worshipping admiration spread over him.

Was it to be wondered at that Lady Anne's face, when she thought

From 40 to 50 Years of Age.
How It May Be Passed in Safety.

So, Wellington, B.C.—"For a year during the change of life I was all run down. I was really too weak to walk and was very despondent and thought I was going to die, but after taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier my health and strength returned. I am very thankful to you and praise your medicine."

I have advised several women who suffered as I did to try your remedies. You may publish this if you wish."—Mrs. DAVID R. MORRIS, South Wellington, Vancouver Island, B.C.

No other medicine for woman's ills has received such wide-spread and unqualified endorsement. We know of no other medicine which has such a record of success as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For more than 30 years it has been the standard remedy for woman's ills such as inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains and nervous prostration, and we believe it is unequalled for women during the period of change of life.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

herself unobserved, shone with that lovely, spiritual light which had made him long to abase himself before her?

"None but herself can be her parallel!"

As the words came into his mind, he felt a will longing to take up arms in this perfect lady's service and lay his life at her beautiful feet.

To the little French girl he was kind but dry:

"I think you made a great mistake, Lisette," he said, "in not following instructions given to you. Lady Anne's goodness and charity to an invalid pensioner was not your business; you had no right to pry into it. I see nothing mysterious in what you have told me. My mother has the same views as Lady Anne. She does not like her servants to wander about and make chance acquaintances, especially when they are young. And you are too young for such a coquet situation as this at the Abbey. Certainly I should try to get another."

Lisette flushed and tossed her head.

"I shall not have to try long," she retorted. "A gentleman called at the Abbey yesterday afternoon, who is not at all of monsieur's way of thinking. Lady Anne, she went off to try and get another ugly old woman instead of me, although my mother cried and asked her to pardon me. As if I needed her pardon! But while she was away a young gentleman came to the Abbey and asked to see Lady Anne."

"The old woman at the gate tried to send him away. But he would not go, and her grand-daughter, Susan Jessop, was out with her little nephew. So what does this young gentleman do but push past the old woman and run up to the house."

"I was at needlework upstairs and I saw him arrive, so I ran down to the door."

"He was so handsome, and so well-dressed, almost like a Parisian, and he wore a pin of diamonds in his tie that was like a point of interrogation. It was very chic and pretty!"

"He asked me so many, many questions, and said he would call again, as he meant to see Lady Anne. He told me I was very pretty and clever and that I dressed with great taste, and that—"

"You need not tell me that," Harry said, rising. "It was interesting to you and no doubt true, but it takes time to repeat. Now you have told your story, Mlle. Dupont, and I have given you my advice. Do what you are told, and leave when you can. There is nothing else to say."

Lisette, rose, looking mortified.

"I had almost forgotten," she said, "Mlle. wrote this letter this morning and gave it to Maria to give to Anning. I gave it to me, and as could not find Anning I brought it."

"What letter?"

"This one, monsieur."

She held out a letter, directed to "Mr. Worth," at the Manor House Farm, in a clear, vigorous, feminine handwriting.

Harry's heart began to thump like a schoolboy's at sight of it.

"For me," he exclaimed, as he took it. "From Lady Anne?"

"But yes, monsieur."

He walked away to the window and stood with his back to Lisette to read it. In his heart, he was bracing with her for having wasted his time with her chatter while this precious message was waiting.

The letter ran thus—

"Dear Mr. Worth,—I have just heard by chance that you have not yet left the neighbourhood. If you would care to see my rose garden before you go, will you come over this morning at any time between ten and twelve?—Yours truly, Anne Daubeneay."

He looked at his watch. It was half-past nine. He was vexed to think he could not at once hurry to the Abbey, but delighted because he had the chance of writing to the lady of his heart.

"Dear Lady Anne," he wrote.

"Thank you very much. I hope to avail myself of your kind invitation to see the rose garden and to be with you at ten o'clock.—Faithfully yours, "HARRY WORTH."

"Please give this to your mistress at once," he said to Lisette. Then, as he noticed the sulky and disappointed look upon her face, he gave her five shillings.

"Thank you very much for bringing me this letter," he added, with the charming smile which Lillas Morgan so much admired.

Lisette was pleased by the five shillings, but disgusted because he did not kiss her, or even look as if he wished to do so. She consoled herself as she left the farm by the thought that the gentleman with the diamond pin had shown himself more susceptible to her charms, and had even hinted at walks and meetings when he should again find himself in the vicinity of Loders Abbey.

The last stroke of ten was still chiming from the tower of Craythorn church when Harry arrived before the lodge gates of Lady Anne's home. Susan Jessop opened them, and looked astonished and alarmed when he asked for Lady Anne.

"I do hope, sir," she said in a low voice, "that you won't be a-tellin' about me lettin' Teddy fall in the water? The child's come to no hurt, and if Grandfer was to hear o' he'd bullyrag me somethin' dreadful."

In her excitement Miss Jessop fell into the old Dorset speech, which in calmer moments she was careful to avoid.

"Indeed, I won't say a word about it," Harry assured her. "I have met Lady Anne before, and she has been kind enough to say I may look at her roses this morning."

"It's not like her to ask visitors," Susan was beginning with even more surprise when her grandmother pointed her, leaning on her stick and peering forward at Harry.

WHY DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS
CURED MME. DUFALT'S ILLS

She Had Diabetes, Sciatica, Backache and Headache but Found Speedy Relief in the Great Canadian Kidney Remedy.

St. Boniface, Man.—(Special) After suffering for three years from a complication of diseases, Madame Oct. Dufault, of 84 Victoria Street, this city, is once more in perfect health and Dodd's Kidney Pills are credited with another splendid cure. Speaking of her cure, Madame Dufault says:

"Yes, I am again a well woman and I thank Dodd's Kidney Pills for it. I suffered for three years and I may say I had pains all over my body. I had sciatica, neuralgia and Diabetes. My back ached, and I had pains in my head. I was nervous and tired all the time; there were dark circles around my eyes which were also puffed and swollen, and heart fluttering added to my troubles."

"But when I started to use Dodd's Kidney Pills I soon began to get better. I took thirteen boxes in all, and I think they are a grand medicine." Every one of Madame Dufault's ailments is a direct result of diseased kidneys. That's why Dodd's Kidney Pills so quickly cured them all.

The Sugar Habit.

Every morning for the past year, Chas. Schaefer, driver of a milk wagon, has stopped at the same restaurant in New York and before dining he always brought out a generous supply of lump sugar for his horses. One day last week he forgot the sugar. The horses waited for some time for him to come out, and when he did not appear they decided to enter the restaurant. The large wagon collided with a showcase in front of a haberdashery store next door and did about $200 damage.

The Hour for Sleep.

Investigation by scientists of nature of the sleep of persons in normal health shows that it varies according to the daily diet and the different hours that sleep is begun. Altogether, the ideal hour for retiring is ten o'clock. The sleep of a person going to bed regularly at approximately this time gradually augments in intensity for the space of an hour. It then suddenly becomes very profound, reaching its maximum intensity at about 11.30 o'clock. Within five or ten minutes from this time it has been found that the sleep begins to be less deep. In an hour the sleeper is again in the same condition of slumber as at about a quarter after 11. From this time until after two o'clock the rest is "easy and light; from two until four it augments and it considerably diminishes until it ceases at the customary time of rising."—Harper's Weekly.

DECIDED VICTORY IN FIGHT FOR LOWER FREIGHT RATES IN WEST

Railway Commission Finds There is Discrimination Against Prairie Provinces and Railways Must Justify Their Existing Rates

Toronto — After hearing H. W. Whittia, of Winnipeg, counsel for the Dominion Government, present elaborate tables of figures showing the enormous discrimination against the west in freight rates, running in some cases to over 25 per cent, the railway commission decided that the onus must be placed on the railways, and they must justify their existing western rates. The inquiry, however, will not stop at that. After an interesting legal contest, Mr. Whittia and Jas. Bicknell, K.C., the government counsel, won a decided victory by securing a ruling that every phase of freight rates will be investigated, not only the question of discrimination against the west, but, if necessary, the reasonableness of the east as well as the west, and the general basis upon which they were established.

The railway counsel tried hard to confine it to merely the question of discrimination, the position which was taken by M. K. Cowan, K. C., counsel for Alberta and Saskatchewan, who objected to it going further. This Mr. Whittia and Mr. Bicknell strenuously opposed, and finally won a signal victory, which, in the end, may mean much to the western shipper and consumer.

The date for the next sitting, when the railways will assume the onus of justification, was not fixed, but it was made very clear that there must be no delay, and the railways are to give notice by May 21 when they can proceed with the case. "This is the most serious matter the board has ever considered," said Mr. Scott, "and we want to give the railways sufficient time, but we have started this inquiry, and we want to stay with the job. We will give you until the next sitting of the board, May 21, to prepare for the case, and notify us when you are ready to proceed."

An interesting development of the investigation was the fact that the P. R. presented to Mr. Whittia tables alleging to be the revenue and operating expenses of recent years, which were found to be entirely different from tables presented when the Vancouver rate case was before the board. The new statements, Mr. Whittia showed, increased the total operating charges on all the various divisions, in one case, on the Winnipeg division, by an amount no less than $350,000. The new tables also increased the expenses per mile by no less than $428. Mr. Whittia pointed out that it was very strange that two such strikingly different statements should be presented.

Mr. Chrysler, counsel for the railways, said they would explain the difference in due time, but vouchsafed no information to the board. In addition to enormously increasing the operating figures, the new tables decreased the earnings by, in one case, $436 per mile. H. W. Whittia, Winnipeg; James Bicknell, Toronto; F. D. Morrison, Vegreville, Alta.; and J. E. D. Carpenter, Winnipeg, represented the Dominion government. F. H. Chrysler and E. W. Beatty, representing the C. P. R.; George Shaw, C. N. R.; H. B. Hudson, Winnipeg; J. E. Dalrymple and E. Biggar represented the G. T. P.; and M. K. Cowan and Alex. McDonald the provinces of Saskatchewan and Alberta.

ASK ENGLAND TO INTERFERE.

Much Pressure Brought to Bear by Cultured Section of Her Indian Subjects.

Rome. — Considerable importance is given here to the remarkable interview which Assim Bey, the Turkish minister for foreign affairs, has accorded to the special representative of the London Daily Chronicle at Constantinople. The text of the interview has been telegraphed to Italy in full, and is reproduced in special editions of the newspapers.

A spirit of skepticism prevails as to the outcome of the intervention of the great powers and the likelihood of a speedy peace. The "Corriere della Sera" comments with delight on the Daily Chronicle's leading article, counselling Turkey to yield to Italy the occupation of Tripoli, and is pleased to recognize therein what it calls the tardy conversion of the London daily which has been most persistently opposed to Italy's action since the outbreak of the war.

"Il Secolo" publishes a column special interview with one of the heads of the India office, at Whitehall, alleging that the British government is placed in an embarrassing position over the Italo-Turkish war owing to the immense influence and pressure which the cultured Musselman population of the Indian empire is bringing to bear against any favoritism on the part of the central executive toward Italy. The India office official states that not only his department, but also other government offices are inundated with letters and telegrams from Moslem communities in every part of the British empire. Hence, continues the India office official:

"While the Indian government is preoccupied by the widespread and serious character of the pan-Islamic agitation, the home government in London is constrained to exert its efforts to the utmost to limit more and more the sphere of conflict; and cannot act in any way that could be interpreted as hostile to Turkey, in much the same way as it has been obliged to adopt an energetic attitude in the face of Russian projects in the Persian question."

Cheap Wireless.

London.—In the House of Commons Postmaster-General Samuel said he had completed arrangements for accepting the Marconigrams from Canada and New York, and from Wednesday next the full rate for messages from Montreal and New York will be eightpence (16 cents) a word, with corresponding reductions from other points. For deferred messages in plain language the charge will be fourpence (8 cents) from Montreal and New York, and other points pro rata. The company, however, does not guarantee speed in transmission.

Clergymen Sail for Canada.

London.—A party of more than one hundred noted clergymen and religious workers of the United Kingdom sailed from Bristol recently for Canada.

They are officers and members of the Federated Brotherhoods of the Old Land, which has a membership of 750,000, and the primary object of their trip is to attend a meeting soon to be held in Toronto for the organization of a similar brotherhood to embrace all of the existing evangelical brotherhoods and societies in the Dominion.

TO ENCOURAGE AGRICULTURE

Saskatchewan Government Offers Silver Trophy for Exhibits at Dry Farming Exposition.

Lethbridge, Alberta.—The government of Saskatchewan, through Hon. W. R. Motherwell, minister of agriculture, has offered a silver trophy and a cash prize for the two best exhibits of agricultural products of that province displayed at the International Dry-Farmer Products' Exposition at Lethbridge, October 21-26 next.

The Provincial Government plans to sweep everything before it at the Exposition, and is arranging for an exhibition that will cost approximately $5,000. It is estimated that fully 1000 farmers from Saskatchewan will attend the Dry-Farming Congress.

The Department has placed the matter of arranging a provincial exhibit in the hands of Mr. H. N. Thompson, whose successful exhibit work at Colorado Springs last year, coupled with his experience in the Provincial Department of Agriculture, with which he is an agronomist, qualifies him as an expert in this line.

Mr. Thompson has made application for the reservation of 2000 square feet of floor space for the provincial exhibit, 300 lineal feet for 50 or more districts in Saskatchewan, and he announces that he will be able to make entries in every individual class of products.

Saskatchewan, last year, came within a very few points of winning the Great Sweepstake prize at Colorado Springs, losing out only through the fact that it had very few vegetables, whereas Alberta won by having a large vegetable display that scored high.

The province holds the honor of having produced the best bushel of wheat in the world in 1911, and Mr. Thompson is arranging to uphold this honor this year at Lethbridge. He reports that the Department of Agriculture is sending out six lecturers and organizers, who are making a feature of interesting farmers to specialize. Those farmers who make a particular study of any one class of agricultural product will be given aid in their work by the Department of Agriculture, so they may specialize even more in that class. In this way it is expected that the very best products of each class will be provided.

MAY 24 WILL BE PUBLIC HOLIDAY

Report to the Contrary is Given Official Denial at State Department.

Ottawa.—A report that May 24 will not be a public holiday this year is given an official denial at the state department.

In order to abolish the two-generation-old custom of observance of May 24, first as Queen Victoria's birthday, and after her death as Victoria Day, it would be necessary to change the statute, and that was not done at the last session of parliament.

Although no legislation was passed last session in that regard, June 3 will be a public holiday, as being the birthday of the reigning sovereign, and a proclamation to that effect will probably be issued in the course of a week or two.

The result, so far as this year at least is concerned, may be that June 3 will be merely a bank and a government holiday, with a military salute fired at the various stations.

TO KEEP OUT PEST.

Government Adopts Precautionary Measures Against Fruit Fly.

Ottawa.—In addition to the regulation prohibiting the importation of uncanned fruits and vegetables from Hawaii, as a precaution against the incoming of the Mediterranean fruit fly, the government has issued an order in council requiring importers of nursery stock and transportation companies and customs brokers engaged in the importation of nursery stock to notify the Dominion entomologist of all such imports arriving. The importers are also required to notify the entomologist, giving all particulars within five days of ordering.

Alberta Fire Ranger.

Edmonton.—A new fire ranger for the province of Alberta has been appointed by the Dominion government in the person of R. H. Palmer of the real estate firm of Austin and Palmer.

Mr. Palmer's sphere of activity will extend from Edmonton west to the boundaries of the Brazeau and Athabasca forest reserves and Jasper Park; south to include the railroads being built west from Red Deer to Rocky Mountain House and the boundary of the Brazeau reserve; east to include Lac La Biche and as far north as it is possible and practicable to provide fire rangers.

Dominion Fiscal Figures.

Ottawa.—The first month of the new fiscal year shows an extraordinary increase in the revenue from customs duties and sets a pace which if it can be maintained throughout the year will produce in the neighborhood of one hundred millions.

The custom receipts from the month of April just ended reached $3,057,862.25. The figures for April of 1911-12 were $5,509,142.58, so that the increase on the showing of the present month amounts to $2,558,919.67.

THE MARKET REPORT

Weekly Grain Letter Supplied by Thompson, Sons & Co., Grain Merchants, Winnipeg.

The advance in prices in the wheat markets which was set going by the flood of damage reports regarding the winter wheat crop in the central states of the United States continued briskly up till April 20th, by which date the highest prices for the present crop year were reached in the United States markets and also in our Winnipeg market. There seems little doubt that the amount of winter killing will result in the abandonment of the largest number of acres on record. It is freely estimated now that as much as 5,000,000 acres down to winter wheat last fall will have to be counted out of this year's United States winter wheat acreage. Mr. B. W. Snow, the well-known crop expert, issued a summarized estimate, which stated that the general situation did not encourage an expectation of over 250,000,000 bushels of winter wheat this year in the United States. Last year the final official estimate after threshing was a yield of 431,000,000 bushels.

Today an estimate of the probable acreage under spring wheat in the Dakotas and Minnesota forecasts a reduction of about 2,000,000 acres, and the reasons given for this are shortage of fall plowing, a desire on the part of a great many farmers to increase diversity in cropping, and unfavorable weather in North Dakota delaying the seeding of wheat. One can easily understand the desire to increase the acreage of other crops at the expense of wheat when one considers the big prices going for oats, barley, flax, hay and potatoes, but a decrease of 2,000,000 acres in wheat in the three leading spring wheat states, on the back of the big decrease in winter wheat acreage, would be sensational and unless the average yield per acre over the country does not come close to a record yield, the wheat situation in the United States during the crop year of 1912-1913 would be absolutely on a domestic basis. In the United States in the last few days there is a considerable falling off of the primary receipts as compared with a year ago, and an increase in primary shipments; if continued, there will soon be a large decrease in the United States visible supply. In regard to statistics last week, the world's shipments were comparatively large at 13,824,000 bu., against 12,016,000 bu. a year ago. The quantity on ocean passage increased 1,824,000 bu., and the total is now 55,848,000 bu., against 56,656,000 bu. one year ago, so that it is now only 808,000 bu. less than a year ago, while on March 1st the quantity on passage was 15,000,000 less than at the same date in 1911. The amount on passage is included in the European visible supply, and last week that visible showed an increase of 3,712,000 bu., whereas a year ago there was a decrease of 3,400,000 bu. Thus the aggregate European visible now stands at 93,833,000 bu., against 108,704,000 bu. last year, so that there is now only a shortage of 14,868,000 bu. compared with last year, whereas at the beginning of March the figures showed a shortage of 37,080,000 bu. in 1911. Even the stocks in public warehouses in Liverpool have begun to increase slightly, and this week amount to 936,000 bu., against 872,000 bu. last week and 2,304,000 bu. last year. The United States visible supply decreased last week 1,800,000 bu., against a decrease of 1,675,000 bu. a year ago, and now stands at 46,160,000 bu., compared to about 31,657,000 bu. last year. The Canadian visible supply aggregates 31,093,000 bu., against 13,672,000 bu. last year. A study of the foregoing statistics affords no ground for any big advance in wheat prices. As compared with a year ago prices show the large advance of 15c to 25c in the United States markets, and 10c in our Winnipeg market so that it is just possible that the markets are going a little too fast. We have all along looked for higher prices, and we are now getting them, but only time will decide as to whether we are justified in looking for a further important advance. Much will depend on the progress of this year's world's crops. Evidently there is no hope of anything but a moderate or small winter wheat crop in the United States, but the spring wheat crops of the United States and Western Canada may do well, and European crops are giving a good average promise. Caution at the present time in buying on the advance is inadvisable, but unfavorable weather for this year's crops will send prices very high.

Our Winnipeg market continues as strong and healthy as ever. Notwithstanding the great accumulations of wheat waiting at the terminals for the opening of lake navigation, and continued liberal movement from the country, there is a good demand for all grades of cash wheat, and evidently no scarcity of money to pay for it. Lake navigation will probably open in a day or two, and will let loose a flood of wheat, which, however, is already sold for export. The work of seeding the new crop over Western Canada is progressing, not fast, but steadily, and the season so far is what we would call normal. We have two drawbacks, the shortage in fall plowing and too much inferior seed, but how these may affect the acreage and the character of the crop cannot be known until later.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL

LESSON VI.—SECOND QUARTER.
MAY 12, 1912.

Text of the Lesson, Luke vi., 27-38; Rom. xiii., 8-10—Memory Verses, 27, 28—Golden Text, Rom. xiii., 9—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

The topic of this lesson is love, and the pattern is "the love of God." At first sight the teaching is most extraordinary and the practice seemingly impossible and beyond all reason. Great grace might enable us to love our enemies, do good to those who hate us, bless those who curse us and pray for such as despitefully use us, but when it comes to lending without hoping for a return, giving to everyone that asks and letting the man who takes your cloak have your coat also, it does look like a good time for tramps, impostors, thieves and robbers. We know that the righteous Lord loveth righteousness, and anything unrighteous. He would not do us ask us to do, so we must prayerfully wait upon Him for clearer light upon this teaching. According to verse 35 and Matt. v., 45, the object is that we may be manifestly "the children of the highest," "the children of our Father which is in heaven." It is therefore not a matter of what is expedient or according to reason, but how can we, as the children of God, make people to know our Father (God)?

20), those who had received Him as He was teaching his disciples (verse the Christ, the Son of God, and had left all to follow Him, those whom He was to leave in the world in His stead, that because of them the world might believe and know the only living and true God and Jesus Christ, whom He sent into the world to manifest Him (John xvii., 3, 11, 21, 23). It is truly a high, holy, heavenly calling to represent God and Christ in the power of the Holy Spirit and be so alive to their interests that we shall be wholly dead to our own.

The love of God and of Jesus Christ is the greatest thing we ever heard of, and there are no more wonderful statements concerning it than John iii., 16; 1 John iii., 16.

But with these "God commendeth His love toward us in that while we were yet sinners Christ died for us." "In this was manifested the love of God toward us because that God sent His only begotten Son into the world that we might live through Him." "He spared not His own Son, but delivered Him up for us all." "Christ loved the church and gave Himself for it." "The church of God which He hath purchased with His blood." "The Son of God loved me and gave Himself for me." "Rom. v., 8; viii., 32; 1 John iv., 9, 10; Eph. v., 25; Acts xx., 28; Gal. ii., 20). In the light of such tremendous statements consider the treatment that He received when here, in humiliation and even as He taught our lesson of today. He was in the world which He had made, but it knew Him not. He came unto His own special people Israel, but they received Him not. Their rulers had no kind of words or thoughts for Him. They said that He had a devil and was mad and that He deceived the people, and in their hatred they finally killed Him, accusing Him falsely and giving Him no semblance of a fair trial (John i., 10, 11; vii., 12, 20; viii., 52; x., 20). Yet He bore it all patiently and did not take back nor strike back, though He might have swept them off the earth with a look or a word, as He will do at His coming in glory to set up His kingdom and share it with His own redeemed ones (Isa. xl., 4; II. Thess. ii., 8; Col. iii., 4; Rev. xii., 21).

Now, considering that by such love and by the sacrifice of Himself He has at such infinite cost and by such suffering, bearing our sins in His own body, made all who receive Him children of God and joint heirs with Himself, partakers of His kingdom and glory, does it not look a good bit easier to love, to bless, to help others for His sake, to give, to lend, to do good, hoping for nothing again, to serve those who cannot serve us in return? Do we not feel like saying as Mephibosheth said of Ziba, "Yea, let him take all, forasmuch as my Lord the King is come again" (II. Sam. xix., 30).

Our Lord never encouraged wrongdoing, and we may be sure that He would not have us do anything to encourage injustice and oppression, theft or robbery or idleness or anything of the spirit that would wrongfully take the property of another. But He would have us show in our daily life that we have such treasure in Himself and in His kingdom that we are ready to use all present things for the good of others if only we may win them to Him, bearing meekly any loss or cross for His sake. The love of Christ constraineth us to live no longer unto ourselves, but unto Him who died for us and rose again (I. Cor. v., 14, 15). Since Paul could take pleasure in infirmities, in the bearing of insults, in distress, in persecutions, in grievous difficulties, for Christ's sake (II. Cor. xii., 10). Waymouth, the same grace is at our disposal, to enable us to reckon all loss as mere refuse because of the priceless privilege of knowing Christ Jesus as our Lord. Does it not seem as if we could lend or give or go on or bear any loss because of such love and because of His kingdom? Let our one question be, "Lord, what wilt Thou have me to do?" and our motto, "Just to please Jesus," and we shall not be apt either to transgress or come short.

Well Earned Promotion

The many friends of Mr. Wm. McIntyre will be pleased to learn that he has received a well earned promotion in the forestry branch of the Dominion government, that of head forest ranger for the Red Deer district. Mr. McIntyre, as is well known, has been one of the most capable government officials that this district has ever had, and in looking after his duties as forest ranger, game warden and fire ranger for several years has shown his capabilities so well that his promotion to the higher position will not only be a benefit to the forestry branch but to the general public as well because of his long experience along these lines.

Considerable change has been made in the forestry branch and a large addition made to the forest reserves. A large part of the Rocky Mountain Park has been added to the forestry branch because of the large size of the park, consequently this has caused somewhat of a reorganization of the forestry branch of Alberta. Mr. McIntyre will have under him three assistant forest rangers who will assist him in his duties in the large area under his control. The district is bounded by the watershed which has the Ghost and Little Red Deer rivers on its south side, the Big Red Deer river and Fallen Timber creek on its north side and further west the boundary of the Rocky Mountain Park; the north boundary is the watershed between the Clearwater and the Saskatchewan rivers which is also the north boundary of the Bow River forest. This is a very large area, comprising 4,500 square miles and one that has had very little work done on it to make it accessible, especially in the line of trail cutting which is part of the ranger's duties, and Mr. McIntyre's expert knowledge of this district will enable him to fulfil his new duties to perfection.

Obituary

The death of Mr. John Roeth took place at his residence in Didsbury on Monday morning shortly after 12 a. m. at the age of 69 years and 7 months. Mr. Roeth had been ailing for some time but was able to be up and around until the Friday preceding his death when he had taken his bed. Deceased was well known in this district and was an energetic member of the Evangelical church.

Mr. Roeth was born in Germany in 1842, and came to Ontario when he was 12 years of age, where he lived till about six years ago, then coming to the Didsbury district with his wife, who predeceased him a little over three years ago.

He leaves to mourn his loss a son, Mr. Henry Roeth, and his niece, Mrs. L. Stevens, both of Didsbury, besides a large number of friends in the district whom he made by his quiet and friendly disposition.

"My Business Is Unique."

We are told by the old-time circus men and dime museum operators that good freaks used to command large salaries. Barnum's "dog faced boy" is said to have drawn $200.00 a week—you see he was the only dog faced boy in the world—he was unique.

Most of us—even if we could be freaks—would prefer to make our livelihood some other way. And, anyway, the "freak" stunt is about played out—even in the circus business.

It is surprising to find an otherwise hard headed business man who takes a strange, abnormal joy in posing as a freak. He doesn't call it that, of course. He doesn't even know he is posing. Ponderously in earnest, he would not dream of describing his business as "freakish"—but delights in saying it is "unique"—which really amounts to the same thing.

Some manufacturers "play freak" only when talking to an advertising man. They keep that word "unique" tucked back under the tongue all ready for use whenever anyone suggests that they should advertise. "Oh, my business is unique—it cannot be advertised successfully."

Haven't you often heard it? Have you ever said it yourself? Let us not try to qualify for the dime museum. Let us get down to selling goods. And selling goods—no matter what the goods are—is easier if the goods are advertised.

You say your proposition is "different?" Very well, advertise it in a "different" way.

An Actual Experience that Completely Routs the "Unique" Theory

They market a product which their sales manager was wont to refer to as "the hardest thing in the world to advertise." But a persistent advertising man kept hammering at the door of skepticism, and he finally agreed to "test out" an advertising campaign. A twelve months' trial was agreed upon. Today, at the end of 18 months, this firm is advertising on a much larger scale. Direct orders for the "hard-to-advertise" line are coming in steadily, and the advertising is looked upon by that sales manager as an all-important factor in his business-building.

"SOME HA'E MEAT, AND CANNA EAT"

So Bobby Burns tersely describes the rich, but still poor, dyspeptics. But their case is not now so desperate as when Burns wrote. For the man who has the food now can eat without suffering for it, if he just follows the meal with a Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablet.

These remarkable tablets banish the troubles of the chronic dyspeptic—the man who is bilious—the sufferer from heartburn, gas on the stomach or occasional indigestion. You can eat hearty meals of wholesome food—and digest them, too—if you take Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets.

Compounded by expert chemists, after probably the best formula known to medical science, they are quick and certain in their action, giving prompt relief from all forms of stomach trouble, toning up and strengthening the digestive organs and bringing about permanent cures.

High Finance

A New York broker was praising Charles W. Morse's ability as a money raiser.

"They tell a story about Morse," he chuckled. Morse went to a millionaire one day and said:

"Lend me three millions. I must have three millions for that new deal of mine."

"Sorry, Morse," said the millionaire but I've only got two millions in ready money to-day."

"Is that all," said Morse. Well hand it over then—you owe me the other million.—Detroit Free Press.

BLOOD IS LIKE WATER

When Lips Are Pallid and the Gums Lose Their Color.

You Can Make the Blood Rich and Red by Using

DR. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD

If you find yourself easily tired, lacking in vigor and energy, unable to properly digest the food you eat and generally out of sorts, look in the mirror and carefully examine the lips, gums and eyelids. If color is lacking you may be sure that you are anaemic—that your blood is thin, weak and watery.

It would be a mistake, under these circumstances, to use purging medicines; what you need is more blood—richer blood—and you can increase the amount of rich, red blood in the body by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Not in any miraculous way does this treatment work, but just as naturally as do any of the laws of nature. It supplies to the body the elements which go to the formation of new, rich blood. These are found in condensed and easily assimilated form in Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and therefore do not bother even the weakest stomach.

It will take a little patience and perseverance to thoroughly restore the system, but by noting your increase of weight and the return of color to your faded complexion you will be convinced that the lost vigor and vitality is being restored to your system.

CANADIAN ENTERPRISE

Canadian Pacific Railway Co. to Run Observation Cars on Austrian State Railways.

The announcement that the Canadian Pacific Railway Co. will this summer begin to run a series of Observation Car Services on the Austrian State Railways through the Tyrol, marks an epoch in the growth of the importance of Canada in the old world. Under a contract with the Austrian State Railways, the Canadian Pacific has arranged to build several observation cars in Austria on Canadian Pacific plans. The design is that of Mr. Vaughan, head of the C. P. R. Angus shops at Montreal, who has made a personal visit to Austria to study local conditions. They will differ slightly from the type as used in Canada, and each car will have platforms at both ends. The cars will be the longest four-axle cars in Europe. They will have a very spacious interior and will seat thirty-two passengers. There will be accommodation for a typist, whose services will be at the disposal of the passengers; and an up-to-date library with all the latest magazines, just as on the C. P. R. transcontinental trains, will be among the features of the cars.

Both Austria and the Canadian Pacific Railway will benefit from the consolidation of the new scheme. The attention of vast numbers of travelling Canadians and Americans will be diverted from other parts of Europe to Austria, not only to see that interesting country, but to learn how these Canadian Pacific observation cars fulfil their mission. There will be three observation services to begin with. By arrangement with the Swiss government the first of these will run between Zurich and Innsbruck over the Arlberg route via Landeck. The second will be between Innsbruck and Vienna via Zell-am-See and Salzburg. The third will be from Salzburg to Trieste over the Tauern and Karawanken Railways by way of Badgastein, Villach, Veldes and the Valley of the Isongo. This last is a new route only recently completed by the Austrian Government, which has spent immense sums of money to provide a short cut from the north to Trieste, its greatest seaport.

The Austrian State Railway is particularly well favored in the country it feeds as regards scenery, and seen as it will be under the most favorable auspices in these new C. P. R. observation cars, the beauty of the land will be a most interesting part of any European tour.

A Frugal Method.

An Irishman just landed, secured a position as fireman in a large factory. The chief engineer instructed him in his new duties, saying: "To run our engine we require 160 pounds of steam; you can always tell how much steam you have by looking at this gauge."

Shortly afterwards the engineer noticed that the engine was slowing up. Calling to the boiler room, he inquired of Pat how much steam he had on.

"O! have a hundred and forty-five pounds, sir," answered the new fireman.

"Why man, I told you we had to have 160 pounds to run."

"Niver mind that," was the cheerful answer. "Use what ye have got, an' whin that is gone O'll have more for ye."—Everybody's.

How to Punish Puss.

It isn't a very nice task to punish pussy if you're fond of her, but there are times when she must be chastised. This is how to do it, according to Mr. Louis Vain, the great authority on the ascination feline.

In the first place, don't actually strike the cat. A blow merely numbs it. And when the spine, which is its most sensitive part is struck—particularly if the cat is old—it is likely to spring at the striker.

When pussy does anything wrong, frighten the wrong-doer by striking a tick on the ground. A cat is most sensitive to sounds, and will connect this new noise with what it has done. It feels more intensely than most animals; hence its supposed savagery in cases. Cats are highly electrical, and it is very good to have one perch on one's shoulders or knees.

The best food for puss is raw meat, chopped up and only one meal a day should be given. Most of the mistakes which are made in training cats arise from an absence of knowledge of the cat's character and constitution.

A GOOD REMEDY FOR LITTLE ONES

Baby's Own Tablets are the best medicine a mother can give her little ones. They are absolutely safe, being guaranteed by a government analyst to contain no opiates or other harmful drugs. They cure constipation and indigestion, expel worms, make teething easy, in fact cure all the minor ills of little ones. Concerning them Mrs. Murray Marshall Zephyr, Ont., says: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for my children and always with the best of results. I can recommend them as a good remedy for little ones to every mother." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Countless have been the cures worked by Holloway's Corn Cure. It has a power of its own not found in other preparations.

The Second String.

Mrs. Bache Conde, Suffragist, was talking about a former leader who had deserted her party when ill fortune befell it. "She deserted her party shamelessly," said Mrs. Conde. "She reminded me of a beautiful New York girl."

"Her fiancé faltered in this girl's ear one evening:—

"My dear I have been deceiving you. I am not the manager of our concern at $5,000 per year, but only a humble clerk at $9 per week. Will this make any difference to you?"

"No it will make no difference," she said.

"Not the least difference, darling?"

"Not the least," she replied, rising and smoothing her hair. "Old Gobaa Golde's proposal still holds good. I'll wire him at his Fifth Avenue residence this evening." — Minneapolis Journal.

Her Busy Life.

"Aunt Martha spends all day long hiding her silver in fifty different places to defeat the burglars she is perfectly sure are coming here."

"Goodness."

"And she spends all night hunting for it and gathering it into one pile in case of fire."—Harper's Bazar.

Mrs. A.—Did you ever go to a fortune teller?

Mrs. B.—Yes, once. Before I was married I went to the Probate court to see how much my fiancé's father had left him in his will. — Boston Transcript.

Might Come in Handy.

"I had a happy thought a moment ago," said the conceited young man who had lingered along until the clock had almost got through striking the big numbers.

"Keep it," replied the beautiful girl after she had concealed a yawn. "I think you will need it in a moment. I just heard father sneeze in the hall upstairs."—Pittsburg Post.

Why Women Are Not RICH.

Man is a millionaire many times over in the possession of blood cells. Woman is not quite so rich, for scientists have proven that the normal man has five million—the woman only four and a half million to a cubic millimetre of blood.

A decrease in number of red blood corpuscles and a person "looks pale"—in fact, is anemic, the blood does not get the right food and probably the stomach is disordered.

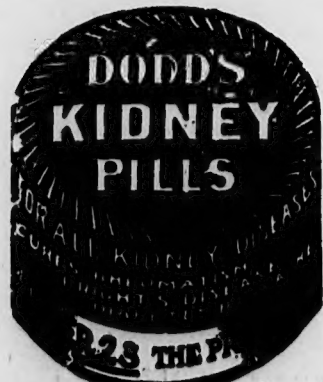

Dr. R. V. Pierce found years ago that a glyceric extract of golden seal and Oregon grape roots, queen's root and bloodroot with black cherrybark, would help the assimilation of the food in the stomach, correct liver ills and in Nature's own way increase the red blood corpuscles. This medicine he called Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. By assimilating the food eaten the system is nourished and the blood takes on a rich red color. Nervousness is only "the cry of the starved nerves for food," and when the nerves are fed on rich red blood the person loses those irritable feelings, sleeps well at night and is refreshed in the morning.

"I was attacked with a severe nervous disease, which was caused by a disordered stomach and liver," writes MRS. J. A. D. LIVERY, of Washburn, Tenn., Route 2, Box 22. "All my friends thought I would die and the best physicians gave me up. I was advised to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and derived much benefit from same. My case had run so long, it had become so chronic that nothing would effect a permanent cure, but Dr. Pierce's medicine has done much for me and I highly recommend it. I heartily advise its use as a spring tonic, and further advice aiding people to take Dr. Pierce's medicine before their diseases have run so long that there is no chance to be cured."

Celebrate 24th of May

A joint committee meeting composed of a committee from the Citizens Band and a committee from the Overseas Club met on Saturday evening and decided to hold a monster celebration in Didsbury on Empire Day, May 24th. The meeting was a great success and much enthusiasm was shown for the undertaking. Finance and programme committees were formed and both will get into work at once. Surplus proceeds (if there are any) from the celebration will be handed over to the band, so help the good work along by doing all you can for the celebration.

Raised Policeman's Salary

Two Accidents

The many friends of Mrs. Wm. Hunsperger will be sorry to learn that she is confined to the house, having sustained a fractured leg. It appears that a little grand child was visiting her on Thursday last and the little one wanted to go out to the barn to see a calf. Mrs. Hunsperger took her out, and thinking the child was getting too near to some horses, reached down to pull her away when she slipped and fell, breaking the bone of the left leg near the ankle. Everything possible was done for the injured woman and Dr. Weart set the broken bone and she is getting along as well as can be expected considering her age.

Another accident occurred on Monday morning when August Guiner, who is employed by Norman Weicker in the butcher business, was riding a horse which bucked and threw him off, breaking his left arm near the elbow.
